Earthquake Hits Japan!

Huge destruction across Japan..

There is a wave of sadness across Japan as the people come to terms with the tragic loss of their homes and loved ones.

Last week on Friday the 11th March there was a major disaster in Japan. An Earth-quake measuring 8.9 on the Richter scale followed by a Tsunami hit Sendai, north of Japan. This report will tell you all about the disasters in Japan. The houses are all broken and thousands of people are dead. Many children have lost their parents and have become orphan. Following the big Earth quake there have been long queues for food and water. This has been the worst disaster to hit the world. The country was all damaged because of the Earth quake and Tsunami. People were warn that there was a tsunami on It's way. There was no time for them, because the Tsunami was here In Japan. We reporters are in Japan now and this is what a lady said "I am very sad because all my children are lost and some are dead but I can't find the body of my son." We helped her find her children but we could not find them. After the lady we went to talk to the priminister of Japan He said "I hope everyone is safe and I am going to make new houses so don't worry you will be very safe now." This is all for today.
